Silverfish Trap – Set of 3

Doesn't like silverfish

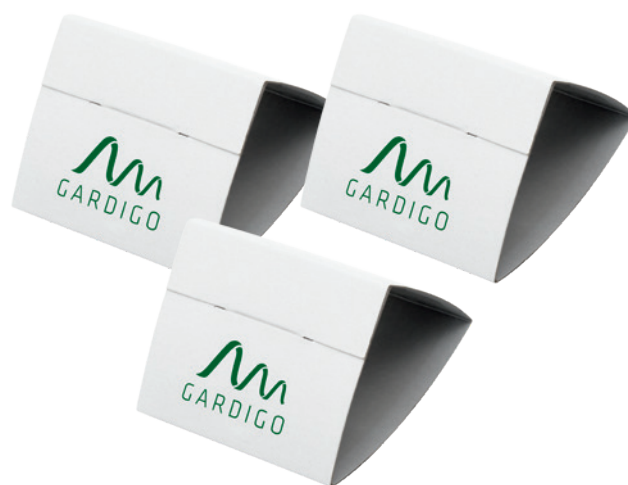

Everybody knows them and they are mostly harmless, but no one likes to have nocturnal visitors in the bathroom: We are talking about silverfish. The insects feed on hair and skin particles amongst other things and like a dark and damp environment. It's not surprising they feel most comfortable in the bathroom. Their scientific name, Lepisma saccharina, indicates that they prefer a diet consisting of carbohydrates. We can use this trait to our advantage with the Silverfish Trap. Its food-based attractant is odourless for humans, but has a delicious smell for silverfish. The Silverfish Trap does not use any insecticides. The insects will simply stick to the trap.

Application:

Pull the protective foil off the adhesive surface and be careful not to touch it. Fold the trap into a triangle shape with the sticky surface facing inside and push the tab into the corresponding slot. The triangular shape will protect you from touching the glue surface by accident. Set the trap near the insects' hiding places. Replace the trap when 70 % of the sticky surface is covered with silverfish.

- Keep the traps away from children! (Danger of sticking)
- Use only according to the instructions for use!
- Wash out adhesive residue with soap and warm water
