Humane Rat Live Metal Trap

Set up in one go

The Live Rat Trap metal is delivered folded flat and can be set up with one movement of the hand. The mechanism inside makes this happen almost by itself. Tensioning the trap is extremely simple as well: Push down the door that is attached to the tensioning mechanism and the trap is ready for use.

To release a caught rat, carefully turn the trap on its side, so the animal cannot sit on the trigger. This allows you to open the door.

The trap should be cleaned, so that the next rat will not be able to smell that a previously caught rodent had a stressful experience inside. With wooden live traps this is tricky, as the wood soaks up the excrement. From the Live Rat Trap Metal on the other hand it can simply be washed off.

Important: Check the trap regularly (at least every 2 hours) so as not to stress out the animal!
